Attendance at Fete is Surprising

Nearly 2000 Visitors See Acre of Gorgeous Wistaria Blooms on Opening Day

Nearly 2000 visitors came to the opening of the city's 26th annual Wistaria fete notwithstanding the drastic gas and tire rationing. Most of them came in the big red trolley trains and trudged up the mountainside. The attendance so far this week continued far above expectations, under the circumstances.

And no one has gone away disappointed, for the giant Chinese wistaria vine has never been lovelier to behold, nor more fragrant. Bright, warm days of the latter part of last week caused all the early buds to burst open and release enormous blooms. Many thousands of smaller buds are still coming out along the many miles of runners and the cool weather since Sunday has retarded their development so that the peak blooming season will probably continue for at least another two weeks, barring an unusually hot spell.

Another large crowd is expected on Easter Sunday and a special feature has been arranged for 2 o'clock that afternoon. The Woman's Club has arranged a ceremony attending the planting of another wistaria vine in honor of Mrs. Estelle Fennell who made her home under and nursed and cultivated the great old vine for many years until 1936, when she sold the property to the late Mrs. Ida Lawless who developed the Wistaria Vine Gardens. It was Mrs. Fennell and her husband who conducted the first of the annual Wistaria Fetes. Mrs. Fennell continuing them until the property passed from her control.

Jr. Women Provide Many Prizes for Easter Egg Hunt

Final plans will be made this (Thursday) evening at the regular Junior Women's Club meeting for the Easter egg hunt which the Juniors are giving for all Toyloin members Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the Park. Nita Twedell will be chairman in charge of the affair and there will be lots of supervision at the hunt by the Junior members.

Mrs. Twedell reports there will be 1000 colored hard-boiled eggs hidden and plenty of marshmallows, chickens, games and races are planned and there will be plenty of prizes appropriate for Easter. All Toyloin members should know their numbers. This is important.

Candidates for club offices will be nominated at tonight's meeting and refreshments will be served.

Junior women who had charge of the Red Cross week at the local theatre collected approximately $50 to turn over to the local chapter. Cub Scouts Neil Maloney and Bobby Davidson had charge of the collection at the Saturday afternoon matinee. —GLENN DRURY, Publicity Chairman.

Concursos Tea Nets Nice Sum for the Naval Hospital

The Naval Hospital benefit tea, sponsored by the Concursos Society of the Congregational church, and held at the Kinney home on Sierra Madre Blvd. last week, netted about $125 for the cause, reports Mrs. Kenneth Busi, Concursos president.

Miss Dorothy Johnson, in charge of rehabilitation work at the hospital, gave a stirring talk on the work the disabled men are doing in the Orthopaedic ward. She exhibited many pieces of their handicraft.

The Weather

Ideal Spring weather found the temperature climbing as high as 81 during the week, but mostly tempered by high fogs that prevailed during the last few days. Temperatures for the week have been:

March 30	78	46
March 31	80	48
April 1	81	48
April 2	76	49
April 3	77	48
April 4	76	46
April 5	74	50

The Last Chance

Today—Thursday, April 6—is the very last chance to register before the all-important May 16 presidential primary election, when Californians will nominate candidates for United States Senator, Congress, the legislature and other offices.

For the convenience of those who are unable to look after their registration during business hours, the city hall will be kept open from 7:30 until 9:30 this evening for the purpose.

Persons who must register in order to vote in the May primary are those who lost their registrations by failure to vote in the 1942 primary or general election, those who have moved since the last election; new voters who have attained their majority, and newcomers to the State who shall have resided here a year by next November.

The ballot box is the voice of the people in a democracy. If the privilege to vote is ignored or neglected by a large part of the citizenry then we have a democracy only in name—not in fact.

There never was a time when it was so essential for the people to make themselves heard, to express their wishes through the power of the ballot. Too many of us wax eloquent in complaint about our government but when the opportunity comes to speak most effectively—with our vote—we are often "too busy" or we "forget" or we conclude that our "one vote won't make any difference" in the final outcome.

BOY SCOUT TRAINING ENABLES LOCAL YOUTHS TO PREVENT DISASTER IN THE FOREST

Halt Spread of Cabin Fire in Orchard Camp Until Arrival of Rangers

Their knowledge of forestry and fire-fighting gained in their Boy Scout training enabled two Sierra Madre youths, John Vandembrooke and David Stewart, members of the Explorer Boy Scout troop, to prevent a cabin fire at Orchard Camp from becoming a major disaster to the Angelus forest and the foothill area.

About the time of their arrival at the old camp on a hike into the back country early Sunday evening, they found one of the two remaining buildings at Orchard Camp on fire. Joining forces with the four other Pasadena and Los Angeles hikers already there, the boys, with the aid of tools located in the cabin, proceeded to prevent the fire from spreading into the forest.

Donald Goodrich of Los Angeles was quickly dispatched down the trail to the Santa Anita Ranger station to report the fire, returning late at night with Tom Henderson, assistant Forest Ranger, and five members of the Forest Fire fighters force. The cabin had burned down, but the boys at the camp had confined the blaze to a very small area. They kept vigil over the remains of the fire in the tops of nearby trees. In an hour after the fire-fighting crew arrived, then midnight, the fire was under complete control.

"We predicted two weeks ago,"

Democratic Club to Install Officers; Arrange Banquet

A meeting of the Sierra Madre Democratic Club will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, April 6, at the city hall for the installation of officers and the planning for a banquet to be held on April 19 in honor of Arch B. Young, candidate for Congress in the 20th Congressional district.

Francis Eakman has been chosen as chairman of the club. Mr. Eakman has been an active member of church circles and of the Boy Scout movement. Mrs. Dorothy Tiller, former social worker, is the secretary.

The banquet for Mr. Young will be held at the Woman's Clubhouse. Announcement of speakers in addition to Mr. Young will be made at the Thursday evening meeting.

EUROPEAN INVASION PLANS CAUSE RED CROSS TO INCREASE SURGICAL DRESSING OUTPUT

Casualty Lists in Proportion to Greatest Military Effort Feared

With huge quotas of surgical dressings assigned Red Cross chapters throughout the nation in preparation for the greatest military undertaking of all time—the momentarily expected invasion of Europe, the local chapter yesterday issued an urgent appeal to the people of Sierra Madre to contribute their services to help meet the demand made upon this community. Casualty lists directly in proportion to the magnitude of the invasion effort are expected and for months the Red Cross has been storing up a bandage supply to meet the situation.

But the supply is considered pitifully inadequate and there have been heavy drains upon it as a result of invasion operations in Italy and in the Southwest Pacific.

"The need for these dressings is admittedly most urgent," explained Harry Grace, Forest Ranger, "when we were demolishing Orchard Camp, that there was serious danger of a fire until we had completed the job there. Obviously, someone had made a fire in that cabin, and embers remained to cause the damage."

"We cannot emphasize too much that fires are absolutely forbidden at Orchard Camp or anywhere in the mountains. We can thank our stars that a major disaster did not result from this incident. We sincerely hope the city will be able to start action to make Orchard Camp a municipal recreation spot, with fireproof stoves, to prevent any further anxiety to the Forestry Department and inestimable damage to our forests and the all-important watershed."

Sale to Aid Hospitalized Service Men

Material Being Gathered Now for Noteworthy Event Scheduled for Early in May

Material is being rounded up for what is expected to be the biggest white elephant sale ever held in Sierra Madre some time early in May. The event will be sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the proceeds will go into a fund for hospitalized soldiers and sailors. Mrs. Edward Stewart of 177 Lowell ave., who headed a campaign for this fund and for the collection of costume jewelry to be used in barter by American soldiers and sailors in the South Sea islands, is chairman of the committee gathering material for the sale.

Much material, some of it of exceptional quality, has already been contributed by Sierra Madre and Rancho Santa Anita families and Mrs. Stewart says the donations are expected to far exceed those made for last year's highly successful drive.

The sale will be conducted at Hensen's Ford car salesroom on Sierra Madre Blvd. Material for the sale, clothing, knickknacks, jewelry, furniture—most anything, may be left here or at Bernie's bike shop, just a few doors away.

Woman's Club Will Hold April Meeting at Wistaria Fete

The April business meeting of the Woman's Club will be held Wednesday, April 19, at 11 a.m. at the Wistaria Fete. Women's clubs from neighboring communities are invited to hear Dan Reib speak on "China." Following Mr. Reib's talk, Mrs. Mabel Kinney, legislative chairman of the Los Angeles County Federated Women's Clubs will hold a round-table discussion.

After the program luncheon will be served under the Wistaria vine.

City Asked to Help Build Sewer System

County Submits Proposal to Valley Communities as Postwar Project

Representatives of Sierra Madre and 16 other San Gabriel Valley cities have been asked by the county government to indicate whether or not they are interested in construction as a postwar project of a sewer system to serve these and other municipalities.

The proposal was submitted by the county to representatives of the cities at a conference in Pasadena's city hall last Thursday. It calls for construction and operation of a single sewer system, each participating community to share in the cost of construction and operation. Tentative plans call for a treating plant along the main trunk line somewhere on the San Gabriel river.

Mayor John Froehlich and Street Superintendent Joe Swanson represented Sierra Madre at last week's conference of officials. They and other members of the city council will attend another conference in the Pasadena city hall next Wednesday when the county sanitation department engineers expect to give an idea of the total cost of such a project and the estimated cost to each participating community.

Meanwhile Arcadia is awaiting a reply from the State Board of Health to its application for permission to construct and operate its own sewage treatment plant and disposal works on water lands southeast of Arcadia which were purchased for this purpose about three years ago.

The city proposes to build a plant to serve a city of at least 15,000 people covering an area of ten and one-half square miles.

Citizens Asked to Exercise Franchise Here Next Tuesday

With incumbent city councilmen, city clerk and city treasurer unopposed for re-election at next Tuesday's municipal election it is rather difficult to stir up great interest in that event, but a committee of local citizens is attempting to see that the citizenry does not fail in its public duty.

"Exercise your franchise now, while you may, for some day, if you don't, you may wish you had," this committee warns in asking the townspeople to vote for the re-election of Councilmen John Froehlich and William J. Schiltz.

City Clerk Waverly E. Pratt and City Treasurer Carlton J. Pegler are also unopposed.

There will be but four polling places for the election. They will be open from 6 a.m. until 7 p.m. on Tuesday.

Resolution of Ben Franklin Read to Kiwanis Club

Continuing the Kiwanis Club's discussion of methods for "keeping America American," Dan Reib read a contribution at the club luncheon meeting on Tuesday from Benjamin Franklin, then 16 years old, in an issue of the "New England Courant" published in 1722. Franklin had written as follows:

"It is undoubtedly the duty of all persons to serve the country they live in according to their abilities; yet I sincerely acknowledge that I have hitherto been very deficient in this particular. Whether it was for want of will or opportunity, I will not at present stand to determine. Let it suffice that I now take up the resolution to do for the future all that lies in my way for the service of my countrymen."

Ralph T. Merriam of Pasadena, director of the Chino Institute for Men, told of the rehabilitation work that is being carried on there, where men are being prepared for return to civilian life. Working largely at trades, as farmers and at forest conservation, these men hold a 90% record of adherence to Institute rules, operating entirely on the honor system, Merriam said.

War Fund of Red Cross $234 Short

City's Quota Certain to Be Completed Before the Deadline on April 15

Sierra Madre's Red Cross quota has been almost reached. We are just $234 short of the goal—such a small amount that of a certainty we are not going to let Sierra Madre and the Red Cross down.

Suppose there were no Red Cross . . . no blood centers . . . no plasma for the wounded . . . suppose there were no Red Cross rest homes . . . no bed for your boy when he is furloughed from the front . . . No "coffee and—" at the end of a long march, no cigarettes (no magazines, no welcome Red Cross clubmobiles, no books in the hospitals behind the lines . . .

Suppose our men in enemy hands received no weekly food packages . . . suppose they were left to scrape along, living on alien bread . . . no cheering mail from home . . . no tie of any kind between themselves and their loved ones in the land they fight for . . .

Suppose there were no Red Cross to march beside our men in every land . . . no helping hand to do a mother's work . . .

For the small sum of $234—would you let the Red Cross down? It means just a few pennies more from each of us. When our boys say "Thank God for the Red Cross!" remember this . . . It is YOUR Red Cross . . . YOUR bandages and YOUR blood. Yes, and it's YOUR money, too!

The campaign to raise the city's quota has been characterized by a fine spirit of cooperation on the part of the workers and the public. But it has not closed. The local office is asked to report twice a week until April 15, but long before that we expect our city to cover the greatest quota it has ever been asked to assume. —MRS. HAROLD DRURY, Red Cross Publicity Chairman.

Gen. Pierce Well in Jap Prison Camp

Brigadier General C. A. Pierce, captured by the Japs with the fall of Bataan, is alive and well in the Taiwan Japanese prison camp on Formosa island, a letter received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Nellie V. Pierce of 169 N. Baldwin ave., announced. The letter was dated August, 1943, and was the second message received from the General since his capture. Several months ago his wife, who resides at 375 E. Grand View ave., received a similar assurance of his well being.

The latest letter says the only word the General has received from any member of his family during the last three years was one radiogram. Since his confinement at Taiwan he has also received three food parcels from the British Red Cross.

Brigadier General Pierce received his rank for valiant service at Bataan while it was under siege.

"It is comforting to have heard from my husband," the General's wife said yesterday, "and we hope it will lend some cheer to other families who have someone in Taiwan from whom they may not have heard for a long time."

Sierra Madre Nisei Impatient to Get Into Front Lines

Schizo Kunihiro, American-born son of George Kunihiro, former Sierra Madre florist, is impatiently waiting orders in New Guinea to move up into the front lines, he tells former associates in the Christian Endeavor Societies of Bethany church in letters received this week. He and Sho Nomura, another Sierra Madre American-born Japanese, were trained for special services with the Army intelligence. Schizo went overseas some time ago. Nomura was here on furlough for a short time before shipping out several weeks ago.

"I hope we get orders to get up in the front lines soon, so that we can help get this war over with quickly," Kunihiro wrote Rev. S. R. Sheriff.

Daring Flyer Believed Penalized

There has been no official information but lots of rumors about what action was taken in the case of the daring young man in an Army uniform who had Sierra Madreans scared out of a couple years' growth 10 days ago when he gave them a pretty good idea of what happens when a community is bombed and strafed from the air.

It seems pretty generally believed that the young man is a Sierra Madrean, that his home is on S. Hermosa ave. and that he is enamored of a young lady whose home is in the northwest section of the city, for whom he may have performed his most daring stunts, as for instance sweeping under the telephone wires.

It seems definitely settled that he did not fly from the air force headquarters in Santa Ana, where there are no such planes as that in which the young man flew here and where the training is in ground work and not in the air. Instead it is thought the young flyer hailed from the flying fields at Ontario or Chino.

And finally much credence is given a report that the flyer was court-martialed on Friday.

The Army has said nothing about the incident.

Gorgeous Blooms of Azalea Festival Attracting Crowds

In this spring season one of the most noteworthy of the many floral events is the beautiful Azalea Festival at the Coolidge Rose Plant Gardens on North Foothill boulevard in East Pasadena.

Through a bamboo gate crowds have passed daily into a fairy-land of color. An authentic Oriental Garden and its surrounding acres of singing color are spread at the feet of visitors, inviting their homage. In this you are offered a unique opportunity to enjoy a vision of the Orient at its loveliest—without leaving our own shores.

Beyond the vine-covered lath, winding walks conduct the hundreds of visitors through a forest of brilliant bloom. A charming little bridge over a clear stream that reflects the many colors of the Azaleas leads to an open court beyond which is the little tea-house of bamboo with a great pink azalea at its door.

Programs for Easter at the Churches

Pastors Announce Plans for Observance of Maundy Thursday and Good Friday

Plans for the observance of Holy Week and programs for the Easter services featuring special music, appropriate to the occasion, were announced by ministers of Sierra Madre churches yesterday.

An "extinguishing of the lights" ceremony at the Congregational church at 8 o'clock this evening will constitute its observance of Maundy Thursday, and Campbell chapel will be open for prayer and meditation throughout Good Friday.

On Easter Sunday, beginning with the morning chimes, there will be Holy Communion at 7 a.m., followed by a fellowship breakfast at 7:30. There will be a special children's service at 9:45 a.m., and at 11 a.m. the choir has prepared special music, with Charlene Stansbury as guest soloist. Rev. Frederic Groetsma's sermon topic will be "Finally Death—Then What?"

There will also be reception of new members and christening of children. The special Lenten sacrificial offering will be received at this time.

The Church of the Nazarene will have a special communion at 11 a.m. services, with an Easter program planned by the young people to be given Sunday evening at 7:30.

Easter week services at the Church of the Ascension begin with Holy Communion at 8 and 10 a.m. on Maundy Thursday and a 7:30 service that evening. On Good Friday, altar service will be at 8 a.m. and service of the Passion from 12 noon to 3 p.m. Holy Saturday will have four services—at 10 a.m. the Altar Service, at 4 the Blessing and Lighting of the Paschal Candle, followed by baptism at 4:30 and from 5 to 6 p.m. the Sacrament of Penance.

Easter Sunday services will begin at 7:30 a.m. with Holy Communion, followed at 10:30 a.m. by the Festival Choral Eucharist, with sermon by Rev. John S. Neal, the rector.

Easter Sunday services at Bethany church will be outstanding. At 9:30 a.m. the Resurrection lesson will be presented in the Bible school to all classes, for all people.

The 11 o'clock service will feature the newly organized choir under the direction of Mrs. Belton High, with an Easter message by the pastor. "The Significance of Christ's Resurrection."

The three groups of the Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:30 p.m. The 7:30 p.m. service will be devoted entirely to Easter music, with special numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Harold U'Renn and Miss Marileen Scoville on the marimba. At St. Rita's Shrine, communion will be held at 6:30 a.m., 7:00 a.m. and 7:30 a.m., with mass, singing devotions and adoration at 7:30 p.m. Stations of the Cross will be solemnized at 2:45 p.m. and 7:40 p.m. on Good Friday, with High Mass at 6:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday, followed by 8:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. services.

Art Guild Ready to Occupy New Home in Downtown Area

The Sierra Madre Arts Guild has found and is preparing to occupy a new home—the one-story building at 30 Windsor lane, one of the city's oldest structures that has served variously as a dancing academy, a bakery, a dress factory, a church and a store room. Now a skylight is being installed, the interior is being renovated and the Guild's April meeting will be held there on Friday, April 14. It will also serve as the studio of Alfred J. Dewey, president of the organization. A little later the old structure will get a coat of paint. The building was first used as a bakery by D. J. Millard.

Original home of the Guild was the Old Adobe on East Montecito ave. It moved to Wistaria Vine Gardens when the Adobe was sold. When the Gardens were sold recently the Guild found it necessary to find another home.

Expert on Victory Gardens to Address Local Garden Club

Floyd Cosper, county and state chairman of the War Council Victory Garden Committee, will be the principal speaker at the April 10 dinner meeting of the Sierra Madre Garden Club at the Masonic Temple, it was announced last night when Mr. Cosper phoned his acceptance of an invitation to come here. He has been doing research work on plant problems for 12 years and his talk is expected to be of especial interest to all Victory Garden residents. Dinner reservations should be made with Mrs. W. A. McTavish, phone Custer 5-6872.

THE GREAT BIG "IF"

"THE ONLY THING NEEDED FOR US TO WIN THE EUROPEAN WAR IN 1944 IS FOR EVERY MAN AND WOMAN, ALL THE WAY FROM THE FRONT LINE TO THE REMOTEST HAMLET, ... TO DO HIS OR HER FULL DUTY." - GEN. EISENHOWER.

BITS FROM STRIKING COSTUMES OF NOTED ACTRESSES GO INTO QUILT BEING MADE BY JUNIOR WOMEN

A comforter of silk, satin, velvet and brocade, filled with royal blue taffeta, is the quilt being made by the Woman's Club Juniors for their needlecraft work. The comforter is being made around a centerpiece of brocade. This piece is from a costume used in "Frenchman's Creek" and the material originally cost $100 a yard. The other pieces were used for costumes and gowns in such pictures as "Rainbow Island" starring Dorothy Lamour, "Lady in the Dark" with Ginger Rogers and "And Now Tomorrow," starring Loretta Young. In order to become a section of the National Needlecraft Guild, a club must turn in 110 articles of new clothing and five money donations. Money realized on the comforter will go to buy the necessary garments needed. The balance of the proceeds will be sent to the Hazel Hurst Foundation for the Blind in Monrovia, which is the Los Angeles district Juniors' philanthropic project for this year. Several persons who have seen the comforter as it nears completion have sought to purchase it outright, according to Eleanor Edwards, needlework chairman. It will be on display next week at the Rikeman's shop and also at the Toyloan window. The comforter will be awarded during the Juniors' new-members dance April 22 at the Woman's clubhouse, but it will not be necessary to be present to win it. —GLEAM DRURY, Press Chairman.

H. Ray Laubers Spend Honeymoon at Mission Inn

Following their wedding at the Congregational Church at 5 o'clock Sunday evening, the former Floretta Adelaide Keith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd E. Keith of 326 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., and Harry Ray Lauber of 184 Auburn ave., are enjoying their honeymoon at Mission Inn, Riverside, this week. The wedding ceremony at which Mrs. Harry McLain, sister of the groom, was matron of honor, and her husband, Harry McLain, served as best man, was performed by Rev. Frederic Groetsema and was followed by a reception for more than 50 friends of the young couple at the home of the bride's parents. Ushers were Boyd Keith, brother of the bride, and Edward Lauber, brother of the groom, with Earl George as head usher.

The bride was lovely in a white chiffon and satin gown, wearing a finger-tip veil and carrying a bouquet of white orchids and gardenias. Upon their return, the couple will make their home here, the bride returning to Pasadena Junior College where she will graduate in June. Mr. Lauber, also a Pasadena Junior College graduate, will return to his job at the Lockheed Aircraft plant in Burbank, where he has been employed for more than three years.

Officer Relatives of Local Artist Visitors Here

Week-end guests of Miss Ella Sheppard Bush of W. Laurel ave. were her nephew, Col. George P. Bush and his son, Lt. Edward R. Bush. Col. Bush, in the Army Signal Corps, served in World War I and recently organized the Army and Navy Depot of Electronics in Chicago, which won them the government "E" award. Lt. Bush is in the Marine flying corps, stationed at El Centro. Before entering the service, he was an artist, studying in Washington. They were dinner guests at the Hotel Sierra Madre Cafe Sunday.

From a transport in New Guinea American members of hospital units are carrying medicine and instruments provided by War Bond dollars.

Former Iowans Have a Reunion Here

School-day friends of Harry E. Hopper when they lived in Indianola, Ia., Dr. and Mrs. John P. Morley of Los Angeles were Monday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. Hopper of 383 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. They spent the earlier part of the day visiting Mrs. Don L. Berry, wife of the publisher of the Indianola Record and Advocate-Tribune of Indianola, who is stopping at Hotel Sierra Madre, and who also was dinner guest at the Hopper home.

Paratrooper Home on Furlough is Seriously Ill

Pfc. Howard W. Miller, Marine paratrooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al W. Miller of 119 W. Grand View ave., home on furlough from New Caledonia since March 17, is at the Pasadena Area Hospital. Stricken with measles a week ago Tuesday, he became acutely ill with a rare complication, which necessitated his removal Saturday to the hospital. Latest reports, however, indicate that he is improving slowly.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ANNA M. HURT

Mrs. Anna Marjorie Hurt, daughter-in-law of Dr. L. M. Hurt of Orange Grove ave., died last Thursday morning at a Pasadena hospital. Born in Pasadena 28 years ago, she and her husband, Donald E. Hurt, resided at 59 El Nido ave. She was the daughter of the late Harry Walter Loomis and Mrs. Earl Gunn of Arcadia.

FRANCES M. WALCUTT

Mrs. Frances Madeline Walcutt of 326 W. Highland ave. died at her home Tuesday after an extended illness. She was born in Healdsburg, Calif., 56 years ago, and is survived by her husband, Francis Walcutt, retired Marine sergeant major, of Sierra Madre; a son, John Greenlaw of Sacramento, and a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Miller of Fair Oaks, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Stella Daugherty and Mrs. Louella East, and one brother, Herman Hendricks, all of Scotia, Calif., as well as another sister, Mrs. Cecelia Runner of Eureka.

Mrs. Walcutt and her husband lived at many outposts in the Far East during the past 25 years. They came to Sierra Madre 20 months ago.

Private services today will be followed by interment in Pasadena.

TAYLOR,
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Among men who follow the course of empire, there is a profound conviction that the Atlantic era is drawing to a close—and that the future of American trade lies not in the Old World, but in the lands and islands lapped by the Pacific Ocean.

California, as America's gateway to this new empire of the Pacific, which is expected to come awake in the decades that follow this war, undoubtedly stands on the threshold of the most phenomenal period of expansion and development in its history, if this be true.

There are 1,000,000,000 people in the Far Pacific—450,000,000 in China alone. Theoretically, at least, all are eventual, potential customers for at least some of our commodities.

Farmers and business men and industrialists alike recognize, however, that an economic revolution such as the world has never seen must take place before the teeming millions of China and Burma and the far places of the Pacific can become large-scale American customers. They have the need for American materials, the appetite for American products, but of all the world's wage-earners they are among the poorest and the most under-privileged.

Yet there are those who believe, firmly, that China, in 50 years, will be as rich as the United States. Recently there came to California, to attend sessions of the Institute of Post-War Problems of the Pacific, an emissary of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek—the former head of the Bank of China, Chang Kai-NGAU.

China, when the war ends, will offer America an outlet for investments and surpluses, according to Mr. Chang. China, he said, will need the surpluses of American factories—railroad locomotives and cars, machinery and farming equipment. To make possible such big-scale buying, China, he went on, will want lend-lease aid for two years to win the peace; then, huge, long-term material credits and joint Chinese-American stock companies. In such companies, however, Chinese must maintain control, for the new China will not stand for foreign exploitation. Americans may own 49 per cent of the stock, but 51 per cent must remain in the hands of China's own citizens.

China, as Mr. Chhang portrays it, will offer good profits, but not monopolies. China, he says, will want credit—but China will pay it back, with interest, both in money and in friendship for this country. China will want American engineers, American skilled technicians. And eventually, China will want radios, sewing machines, oranges, apples, walnuts—the every-day necessities of America, which are today longed-for luxuries in China.

Mr. Chang toured many of our big industrial plants. And in the Kaiser shipyards he found extensive surveys and maps on the potentialities of China, already under study. He also found Clay

Bedford, who directs 91,000 workers in the four Richmond yards, preaching the gospel that America's fate is bound up in raising the living standards—and the wages—of China's 450,000,000 people to the point where they can become buyers of American products.

That is a hopeful sign, for American industrialists, like Kaiser, who will help to build the new China, can also help to lay the foundation for a wage system which will raise China's standard of living, if they refuse to exploit Chinese workers and pay them wages which will enable them to become buyers.

That is the only sound basis on which this nation can become a free trade nation. We can't afford to wreck our own economic system and high wage and living standards by letting down the bars to the importation of cheap-labor products. But we can and should do our utmost to raise world wage standards, wherever American business and industry operate—until the day may come when tariff restrictions can be safely relaxed and free trade can be welcomed by agriculture and industry alike.

Until that day comes—and it will take years to achieve it—the American farmer must, of necessity, safeguard his American markets, where he must still sell the bulk of his produce. And if American industry is wise and provident it will remember that it, too, still sells the bulk of its output to its 70,000,000 customers in rural America.

There aren't any easy shortcuts to the new world of abundance, where all nations and all people can trade, one with the other, without tariffs or other trade limitations. The only safe road is the slow, hard road of lifting others to our economic level. For the short-cuts of the "let's have free trade now" advocates would lead only to economic disaster and chaos in America.

UNCENSORED

By LEONE BAXTER

If the War Relocation Authority has conferred any favor on California in its handling of the evacuated Coast Japanese, it is in attempting to set them down on Eastern soil tilled by ten generations of Yankees.

Until that happened, the bored and undiverted East was quite oblivious to the National problem of what to do with the Japs after the war, though the matter has been worrying the West ever since General DeWitt ordered the Jap exodus and woke the public to what had been going on for years under its very nose.

The early disclosure that the 65,000 aliens among the "relocated" Nips were fiercely loyal to Emperor Hirohito was no surprise. But when nearly 20,000 American-born Japanese proclaimed similar allegiance, resentment began to mount against the kind of citizenship that pays its fealty to the unseen country of its ancestors and only scornful lip service to its land of birth.

The latest WRA development has opened the question in Atlantic as well as Pacific areas. Delaware doesn't like the prospect of new Jap colonies carved out of virgin New England territory, and frankly says so. Other Eastern States suddenly are similarly opposed. Some of the most violently anti-Jap spokesmen advocate a clean sweep—wholesale deportation of bad Japs, good Japs and indifferent Japs. Others with more benevolent convictions are equally extreme.

A sound perspective on such matters does not come easily while the guns are still thundering, and cannot be expected soon in any case.

For years to come every Jap carrying a camera will be suspected of espionage, and the suspicion will not be unreasonable. His meek and modest deportment will be discounted as the familiar cloak that hides his in-born scorn of American friendship. His gatherings will be thought a tool to spread Emperor worship and rebuild the dream of world domination. Jap shrines and tea gardens will look like rendezvous for spies, fishermen like high naval officers, and even the gardener and the cook will be distrusted. Unfortunately, many who have served with honor in the American Army face some mighty unhappy years ahead.

The average Jap and the average American have not understood each other in the past, and the war has dampened any enthusiasm for trying. The essential point now is that the broad problem is finally being viewed as Nation-wide in aspect, as it assuredly is, and one of the most important up for settlement in the months to come.

Don't spend your pay in competition with your neighbors for scarce civilian goods. Save, America, and you will save America from black markets and runaway inflation. Buy more Bonds every payday. How many bonds? Figure it out yourself.

Paving the Way

There is no doubt among the experts that Allied bombing of industrial cities of the Reich is cutting deeply into German capacity to produce, for the magnitude of those destructive forays exceeds any in history.

They are not raids, as military men point out. They are large-scale battles, the biggest ever directed against single cities. To launch each attack, military statisticians report, the Americans have to load their planes with 3000 tons of high explosives and incendiary bombs, 19,000,000 rounds of machine-gun ammunition, 120,000 rounds of cannon ammunition, 3,300,000 gallons of gasoline and 163,000 gallons of oil.

It is estimated that 600,000 men are involved on both sides in such battles, including 12,000 American and Allied airmen in the bombers and fighters, 1000 Nazi airmen, 50,000 Allied and 25,000 German ground crew men, and 500,000 Germans manning the anti-aircraft guns and rocket-gun emplacements all the way from the coast to Berlin!

When our bombers by day and the RAF by night thunder out across the channel in that gigantic undertaking, their solar plexus blows to the Reich must surely soften the way for our troops which one day soon will roll across the mountains and over the beaches to close in a death grip with the enemy.

No Cure-All

The sharp rise in juvenile delinquency is causing increasing concern among those who deal with youth problems.

Unfortunately, this problem is apparently not causing enough concern where it should be the greatest—that is, among parents. This is not to say that many, if not most parents are concerned with their children's welfare. But too many are not.

Not long ago a policeman in an eastern city took into custody a half dozen boys and girls of teen age who were out at a late hour. When he telephoned their parents he found that five out of six of them weren't interested. What is more, four of them told him in no uncertain terms that they didn't appreciate being awakened by the telephone at a late hour.

It has been said that there are no delinquent children—just delinquent parents. J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI declared, "Juvenile crime flourishes where the home ties have been weakened by divorce, separation, the desertion of a parent or the ignorance, carelessness or indifference of fathers and mothers."

Youngsters are naturally imaginative. The desire for excitement and adventure is by no means unusual. These normal urges should not be smothered, but should be dealt with sympathetically, understandingly. The need for such handling is all the more necessary at the present time when tales of thrilling war adventures fill them with the yearning to share activity in these experiences.

Boys and girls naturally seek each other's companionship. This companionship should be provided against the background of the home rather than found wherever chance might produce it.

No one thing can be termed a cure-all for juvenile delinquency. But certain it is that when more parents devote more time to understanding and helping their children there will be less of it.

Help Build Prosperity

Our war production has been enormous, but the volume of post-war plans turned out has not suffered by comparison.

Federal, State and local governments, civic and industrial groups have prepared post-war plans covering virtually every phase of our economic existence. These plans range from the feasible to the fantastic. If only half of them are carried out successfully we should enjoy an era of prosperity after victory.

But—we can't count too much on such projects and proposals. We should make our own post-war blueprint.

When the war is over, many people want to build or buy a new home, get a new car, or go into business for themselves. The farmer wants a new tractor, milking machine, fences, building and power equipment. All these are post-war plans.

But they mean little unless they are backed up by the thing that makes them tick—money. Hence, every dollar laid aside in War Bonds or a savings account now will help make them a reality later. These savings also help to establish the individual's credit for the day when he will want to borrow to aid in completing his plans.

Where we stand tomorrow is largely determined by what we do today. If we think ahead wisely, spend wisely and save wisely, we will have much less concern about the future.

Individual planning backed by thrift will go a long way toward making the larger plans of government and industry more successful.

So climb aboard the post-war "plan-wagon" and go your part toward building a more prosperous America.

Here and There

by Dean A. G. H. Bode

I AM writing some thoughts for Good Friday. Last week I wrote of the sacrifice in the lives of humble workers all over the world in providing for our comforts—shepherds, sailors, trainmen, miners, lumbermen, fishermen, common laborers and countless others who are out of sight and out of memory, yet form the base on which our civilization rests. We should mention the sacrifice of parents for children. We live on others' sacrifice. And sacrifice for the good of others will do more to make a great country and a better world than will enlightened self-interest. And Good Friday brings to mind One who taught this and died for it. This week I found a prize editorial which carries on the same thought, written by John R. P. Brady for The Morning Herald of Gloversville, N. Y. Our readers may like to have it. Mr. Brady wrote as follows:

"Today is Good Friday. Between today and Sunday, which is Easter, something happened years ago in the far-off town of Jerusalem which changed human history and altered the lives of countless men and women. A Galilean carpenter who could not accept the formal sacrifices of a religion which ignored the more important matters of justice and mercy died on the cross for His beliefs. The world was dark then, just as it is dark today. But on that day He declared that if goodness is to come out of evil, if progress is to be made in man's relationship with man, somebody must do something about the wrongs which beset us. We can't shrug them off, any more than He did at Calvary. We can't say they are not our fault, dismiss them as no concern of ours. We must forgo and sacrifice, even as He sacrificed for us on that desolate hilltop.

"It is this principle of sacrifice which places the name of Jesus above any other, which makes it a symbol to believer and non-believer alike, of the brotherhood of man. And although there was only one Good Friday, only one death on the cross, over and over again, evil people mad with power, have driven the centurion's spear into the side of Jesus. Once more, on this Good Friday, when man with his world-wide exchange of goods, with his new devices of communication, has approached a realizable economic brotherhood, the old assault is under way, the old evils which Christ fought and died to correct are loose in the world."

SO FAR Mr. Brady's editorial. The old evils which Christ fought and died to correct are still to be found among us as well as in Germany and Japan. But we will go back to what is written about Christ Himself, and particularly the human side of His life, His teaching of the way to live, and the entrenched evils that brought His to His death. How human He was. His talk shows he shared the experiences of ordinary people. He knew a poor home, torn tunics and patches, ovens and yeast and baking, and borrowing a loaf from a neighbor, and the price of sparrows, the cheapest food in the meat market, about carpentering and farming, and signs of the weather and sleeping out nights, and boats and fishing, and going to the synagogue on the Sabbath. He was the friend of people. It has been said that the rough untutored hearty men of Galilee appealed to him more than conventional folk of the metropolitan city. Men who would have felt awkward in churches, and who used rough language, were quite at home with Him. In any lodge, machine shop, stockhole, wharf, mine, lodging house he would not be resented. They would like Him to come again. "The common people heard Him gladly." And He could also love the rich young man. His life was spent doing good, healing the sick, feeding the hungry and teaching a simple religion—the Fatherhood of God who loves all, sending His rain on the just and on the unjust; the brotherhood of all men, which would include white, black, yellow and brown; the infinite value of every personality, even the least of His brethren; the duty of love, meaning goodwill; the duty of forgiveness; the duty of overcoming evil with good, following Him as an example. All of which He summed up in two inseparable commandments: Love God, and love your neighbor as yourself. This may briefly recall His life and teaching.

HOW could such a life end in disaster on a cross? For no other reason than His sheer goodness, because He would make no compromise with the standards of His day. His simple way of love of God and neighbor was met with religious bigotry, which forgot justice and mercy while insisting on burdensome rules of ceremonial observance. This was one evil. Another was what we call "graft," shown in concessions to merchants and money changers in the house of prayer. His driving them out is made in the Oberammergau Passion play the principal reason for His condemnation. Another evil was the corruption of justice through false witness and in other ways. Many poor people do not have justice today, with delays and appeals and technicalities. Another evil was mob spirit. The mob spirit, incited by "our rulers," caused the cry: "Let Him be crucified." And we have lynching still. Another evil was indifference, one of the worst evils of today, not caring about other people's troubles, nor the facts, nor both sides of the story, nor the rights or wrongs of those in trouble. And another evil was class contempt, shown by inflicting on Jesus the punishment reserved for the lowest outcast. There is still plenty of this evil for Christians to overcome, who have promised to fight manfully under Christ's banner against the evils of the world.

If we are indifferent to the injustices and wrongs around us, we contribute to a state of society in which a monster injustice like the crucifixion is committed, and in that sense we share the guilt of Good Friday, and Christ died for our sins, praying, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do," showing the loving mind and heart of God. The medieval Abeldar said that through our pity and our shame his love is answered by our love.

The example of Christ, showing what our human nature is capable of, has, in the words of Mr. Brady, altered the lives of countless men and women. And today many will feel His love and forgiveness, and hear His "Follow Me," and try "to do something about the wrongs which beset us." The following prayer may help:

Creator and Ruler of mankind,
We pray for our country that her new life may be established in the way of Christ.
That all hatred and malice, all indifference to the sufferings of others, all narrow exclusiveness and selfish greed may be swept away by the breath of Thy Spirit, and that public spirit, and honor and justice, cooperation in service, and self-sacrifice for the good of the whole people may flourish abundantly among us.

What They Say ---

DIGGORY VENN, Marine Correspondent, S. F.—"War is not always dramatic. Usually it is uncomfortable—sleeping in water-lined foxholes, slopping through mud, drinking stagnant water purified with a drop of iodine, eating the same cold rations, body aching, with fever and itching with insect bites, filthy clothes and leaden fatigue."

MARGIE GROVES, S. F. High School "mutiny" leader—"If we don't put a curb to these clothes regulations it might lead to anything. They'd be asking us next not to use nail polish—or lipstick! Yes, it might lead to anything!"

RAF WING COMMANDER R. H. HARRIES, speaking in Calif.—"As for myself and my pilots, we hate the Japs just as much as you do and we want to get at them as soon as we can—but Germany is still only 22 miles away from us."

DR. MONROE E. DEUTSCH, Vice Pres. U. C.—"We cannot keep out of the rest of the world. All nations are our neighbors. The only question is whether we shall be good or bad neighbors."

VYVIAN LYNDALL, Alameda business woman leader—"Unless we watch Washington we'll lose what we've been fighting for."

JAMES MUSATTI, Gen. Mgr. State C. of C.—"If we are going to restore local government, we must stop running to Washington for help."

Ask the Professor

By H. F. Noake

Dear Professor:

What's the difference between a salary and a wage?

Ans.: Salaries are paid for what folks are worth from the neck up, wages from the neck DOWN.

Dear Professor:

What do you think a man condemned to be hanged would say on learning that the Governor had reprieved him?

Ans.: No noose is good noose.

For decades men of the sea have sung about "rolling down to Rio," and for years other men have dreamed of traveling to that Brazilian city over highways extending all the way from the United States. It may be some years yet before this dream comes true. But this year part of it may become a reality. Reports are that military truck convoys may travel from our southern border to Panama later in the year over the now nearly completed Inter-American highway which is part of the planned 15,000-mile Panama road.

Although the nation is now producing synthetic rubber faster than raw rubber was consumed in this country any time prior to 1941, military and civilian demands still exceed the supply, the Office of Rubber Director discloses. Low speed limits must be enforced and all tires recapped if essential driving is to be maintained during the critical months ahead, the rubber director warns. He reminds motorists that the life of a tire at 35 miles per hour is 50 per cent longer than at 50 miles per hour and three times longer than at 60 miles per hour.

More than 19,000 of the 112,000 people of Japanese ancestry evacuated to relocation centers from the west coast two years ago have been granted indefinite leave to establish homes outside the centers, the War Relocation Authority announced. Between 2000 and 3000 others are on seasonal leave, mainly as farm workers. Fully two-thirds of the evacuees on leave were born in America, and 72% have never seen Japan.

We have heard that our troops throughout the world have put their hearts into making themselves good-will ambassadors for the United States. However, one soldier in the South Pacific has put his teeth into it—false teeth, incidentally. It seems that on one occasion he casually removed his upper plate. The natives were so startled and fascinated that they insisted upon several repeat performances. Now the soldier is in great demand. The South Sea Islanders never tire of seeing him take his teeth out and put them back again. Nothing like having "native charm" to charm the natives.

They're all set to roll beer cans off the production lines again, one concern to turn out over 300 cans a minute. However, the cans will wear coats of camouflage and will not find their way into channels for civilian consumption. The government is taking thought of thirsty sailors and soldiers on offshore duty and textiles slumped in New England. When war production began, Lowell's idle labor was utilized by making it an ordnance center. But cutbacks came, and when 50-calibre ammunition contracts ended, Lowell had unemployment again. Local business men sought new industries, while industries at some distance sought to lure away the labor. The position now is that the people of Lowell are awaiting expectantly the start of two new war factories (in existing buildings), hopeful that they will take up the slack caused by the ammunition cutback. All of which suggests that planning must be local as well as national.

Cut in Gas Rations Increases Need for More P. E. Help

Facing an ever-increasing volume of traffic, a large proportion of which is directly connected with military efforts of the nation, Pacific Electric is urgently in need of augmented manpower. Added stimulus to the greatly increased traffic volume has resulted from the recent cut in gasoline rationing, it was stated by the Los Angeles office of the company yesterday.

The 1943 record of 140,000,000 passengers carried, during which period more than 100,000 carloads of freight were moved each month, is being far surpassed so far this year.

In order to maintain this vitally necessary war industry in efficient operation, hundreds of additional men and women are now urgently needed to fill both newly created positions and to replace men called into the military service under latest regulations.

P. E. officials point out that recently increased rates of pay, together with free transportation to and from work, hospital care, group insurance benefits, etc., afford attractive employment in this vitally essential industry.

Posters for Public School Week Will Draw Prizes

A highlight here of Public Schools Week observance beginning April 24 will be a special program planned for the night of April 28 at the grammar school auditorium.

The observance of a Public Schools Week was inaugurated 24 years ago by the Masons of California, for the purpose of making the public more conscious of the value of public schools.

The Sierra Madre lodge will award five prizes, totaling $15 in war stamps, for the best posters made by grammar school students, illustrating the American way of life. The posters will be on display in stores and places of business in the shopping district.

Mira Monte Home is Sold to New Yorkers

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Alpert, newcomers to Sierra Madre, from Buffalo, N. Y., have just purchased through the office of T. W. Neale the property at 48 W. Mira Monte. They expect Mr. Alpert's parents here from Buffalo in July to make their home with them.

Rosemead Family Buys Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Milton of Rosemead have purchased the property at 61 Suffolk st. through the office of T. W. Neale.

Grow More Greens

Home gardeners should plan to grow more fresh greens over a long season and can less food specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggest. The housewife who puts up a big batch of greens in the spring for year-round use when she could have fresh greens from the garden makes herself extra work and serves less appetizing food.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

THOMAS JEFFERSON
APRIL 13, 1743 — JULY 4, 1826.

Equal and exact justice to all men....
Honest friendship with all nations....
Freedom of religion; freedom of the press;

Most Discussed Books About the War Available at the Public Library Now

Fowler's best seller, "Good Night, Sweet Prince," and half a dozen of the most discussed and widely read stories of the war, including Fredborg's invasion story, "Behind the Steel Wall," are among the volumes received in the most recent consignment of new books at the public library.

Among the other war and non-fiction books are "They Shall Not Sleep," Stowe; "With General Chennault," Hotz; "Persons and Places," Santayana; "Beethoven," Ludwig; "Serbs Choose War," Mitchell; "Where's the Money Coming From?" Chase; "Book of War Letters," Maule; War and Children," Freud; "Lifeline," Carse; "Burning an Empire," Holbrook; "Connecticut Yankee," Cross; "Winged Victory" (drama) Hart.

New books of fiction are: "Bell for Adano," Hersey; "Signpost," Robertson; "Apostle," Asch; "Arrival and Departure," Koestler; "Taps for Private Tussie," Stewart; "Avalanche," Boyle; "Winter Wheat," Walker; "Tower of Steel," Lawrence; "Wild River," Strong; "Victoria Grandole," Bellamann; "Anger in the Sky," Ertz; "O River, Remember!" Ostenso.

Sierra Madreans to Operate Resort in High Sierras

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Whitely of 80 S. Baldwin ave. have sold their home here and moved Monday morning to Georgetown, Eldorado County, where they will operate the Wentworth Springs Resort, a mecca for hunters and fishermen, which they have just purchased. The streams abound in this area and there are five lakes nearby, Mrs. Whitely says.

LOW POINT" Foods

How you can help add to
The Nation's Food Supply

In America alone, 30,000,000 families must be kept in fighting trim—our over-taxed food supply has to be conserved! You can help by buying "No Point, Low Point" Foods. The shopping you do for these "plentiful foods" helps to relieve the drain on our limited supply of "scarcity" foods. And it spreads your own family's "food purchasing power," too. Listed below are some of the nourishing "No Point, Low Point" Foods that your grocer has for your selection. And by using very little water and low temperatures in preparing them—Controlled Gas Cookery saves the extra minerals and vitamins that count so much for health!

Nourishing wartime meals with your
speedy GAS RANGE

So much of the health and body-building nourishment you get from food depends on how you prepare it! Your Certified Performance Gas Range is ideal for the low-temperature cooking that preserves the nourishing vitamins and minerals. Its unequalled heat control makes inexpensive roasts juicier, more tender. Broiled meats are free from excessive grease. Vegetables that are "waterless-cooked" on the simmer burner have more appetite appeal and nourishment. If you missed getting a modern CP Gas Range—it's worth waiting for!

Income Estimates Only Rough Guesses; May Be Revised

Mailing of forms to 950,000 Southern Californians with which to file declarations of estimated 1944 federal income tax was completed this week.

A declaration which must be filed not later than April 15, is required from all citizens or residents of the United States who expect to have during 1944: (1) wages subject to paycheck withholding exceeding $2700 for a single person or $3500 for a married couple living together; or (2) more than $100 income from all other sources such as dividends, rents, royalties, interest, or annuities if the total of such income plus wages subject to withholding will be $500 or more for a single person or $1200 or more for a married couple living together.

Business men and professional men as well as agricultural or domestic employees and clergymen, none of whose earnings are subject to withholding, must observe the $500 or $1200 exemptions for single and married persons and must file declarations if their incomes this year will exceed those figures.

The estimated tax may be paid in quarterly installments. The first quarterly installment will be due at the time the declaration is filed. The remainder must be paid on or before June 15, September 15 and December 15.

Collector Westover pointed out that these declarations are in reality rough guesses which may be revised or amended later in the year.

Any taxpayer who is required to file a declaration who has not received Form 1040-ES may obtain copies at any revenue office.

'My Sister Eileen' Tops Playhouse Spring Schedule

With two confused conquerettes from Columbus leading the way, Pasadena Community Playhouse states its Spring play schedule, a varied foursome of footlight fare.

"My Sister Eileen," laugh-packed comedy hit by Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov, introduces the sister duo from the Ohio brushlands who come to conquer New York, clad only in the shining armor of ambition and naivete. In a laugh-a-minute pacing the pair run the big city gauntlet, arm in arm with rambling wrecks from Georgia Tech, a small section of the Brazilian Navy and sundry characters. The play is slated to run April 12-30.

Aurania Rouverol's new play, "Young Man of Today" is staged from May 3-14 at the Playhouse. Larry E. Johnson's famous comedy, "It's a Wise Child" comes May 17-18 as N. 3 in the Spring series.

Edward Chodorov's drama, "Those Endearing Young Charms" from the 1943 Broadway season climaxes the series, May 31 to June 11.

I SEE WHERE

this "quick-starting critter" over to the public without gearing it down would be extremely dangerous.

Initial returns on the nation's 1944 traffic casualties serve notice on America to jam on the brakes or face the biggest annual traffic toll since Pearl Harbor. Nation-wide reports show that January brought a 30% increase in traffic deaths over the same month last year for a toll of 2330 lives. At this rate the 1944 aggregate would approximate 30,000. The 1943 traffic toll was 23,300.

U. S. Military requirements every day are equal to the gasoline that could be bought on 12,000,000 "B" coupons, statistical information shows.

Despite the large number of women working in Los Angeles County war plants, only one woman was killed in industrial accidents in the county during the fiscal year ending June 30. This was revealed yesterday in a report of County Coroner Frank A. Nance. The report listed 6831 cases handled by the Coroner during the year including 1820 accidental deaths. Of the latter, 688 were motor vehicle accidents.

Reports of state and national sales of seed to Victory gardeners are running 30 per cent ahead of last year, according to R. B. Easson, extension service specialist in Agriculture at the University of California. "Early buying undoubtedly accounts for some of the increase, but it is a hopeful sign of the response people in California are making to the Home Food Production Campaign," he said. Surveys reveal that California produced 600 million pounds of home-grown fruits and vegetables in 1943 and that from 105 to 110 million pounds of this fresh food was conserved by home preservation methods. It has not been noted that this fine achievement in home food production and preservation interfered in any way with the output of commercial growers and canners. It does add emphasis to the importance of increased home food production in 1944. "Grow More in '44" is the watchword. Victory gardens are valuable to the war effort aside from the standpoint of food production, Easson pointed out. "They save transportation, containers and man power, in many cases."

BITS O' BUSINESS—It will take 10 post-war years for the government to get rid of its $75,000,000,000 worth of surplus materials, according to the Foreign Economic Administration. Every day in the United States an average of 350 airplanes are made. Forty per cent of all vitamin A supplies is earmarked for feeding to hens, with consumers getting in eggs what he doesn't swallow in capsules.

THINGS TO COME—Vitamin-fortified coffee, each pound said to contain 1200 International Units of vitamin B-1. An "electric overcoat," but not right away—it's just been patented. Continuance by men's clothing stores that added women's coats and suits at the beginning of the war in this field after the war. Midget television theatres after the war, reported by the Financial World as being likely new competition for motion picture theatres. The television shows would be housed in theatres seating 50 to 100 persons.
